FOREWORD

Regular elections are an integral part of any working democracy. They derive meaning only when citizens make an informed choice, and vote in large numbers and bring about an effective change for good governance. The election agenda too must reflect the concern of the voters, and not issues artificially imposed by political parties and their candidates. The candidates are unfortunately often chosen by the parties in an undemocratic way. Candidates are sprung on to the electorate at the last possible moment, and their selection is based not on merit, but on money or muscle power, or considerations like caste and party connections. Parties benefit from voters' lack of awareness or voter apathy caused by fielding unworthy candidates.

There is a great need to push for electoral reforms, which will help increase political accountability, generate greater awareness about candidates and give the voters an effective voice in bringing about change for the better. Some of the reforms like the right to reject all candidates, or right to recall a non-performer, or dismissing candidates for false information are all urgently required. We also need much greater transparency in electoral funding and expenses.

The Maharashtra Assembly Election 2009 report is the work of the pioneers in the field of electoral reforms, the Association for Democratic Reforms (ADR) and the Maharashtra chapter of National Election Watch (NEW). This is the fifth time that such large scale election watch activity was conducted in the state, starting with the Lok Sabha elections of 2004. The aim of election watch is to make candidate information available to all voters. Over the past decade, ADR along with NEW has been campaigning for electoral reforms, and for improving democracy and governance across all states.

This report which gives candidate and winners' details based on their own affidavits, shows that money and muscle power has not declined in the politics of Maharashtra. For the first time we can also compare the assets of candidates from their declaration in 2004 to that in 2009. The detailed analysis contained in this report gives trends of criminalisation, wealth, education and gender in Maharashtra's elections. The number of elected MLAs with pending criminal cases has increased from 132 in 2004 to 146 in 2009. The total number of criminal cases against MLAs has increased from 459 to 708 during these past five years. The number of crore-pati MLAs has increased from 108(38%) in 2004 to 186 (65%) in the 2009 assembly. Many more such details, in the aggregate and at individual level are available in this report.

I have been associated with Maharashtra election watch for many years and have known about ADR's work, ever since it won the landmark judgement from the Supreme Court in 2003. That was the judgment which made disclosure mandatory, through self declared sworn affidavits. This information has been valuable in increasing voter awareness.

Much work remains to be done to improve and strengthen the electoral process, and get cleaner politics and better governance. I look forward to ADR's continuing work in this arena, and wish them great success in their endeavors.

Mr.J.F. Ribeiro
(Former Mumbai Police Commissioner)

Maharashtra 2009 Assembly Elections

Maharashtra Assembly Elections, 2009 was held on October 13, 2009. This report includes the analysis of voting trends, criminalization of politics, use of money power, gender disparities etc. in these elections. Information provided by the Election Commission of India and details from the affidavits filed by the candidates have been used for the analysis.

Growth of political parties

In Maharashtra 2004 Assembly Elections, 57 parties contested which rose to 84 in Maharashtra 2009 Assembly Elections. This reflects a rise of 47% in the number of parties from Maharashtra 2004 Assembly Elections to Maharashtra 2009 Assembly Elections.

Growth in number of candidates

A total of 3,565 candidates contested the Maharashtra 2009 Assembly Elections as compared to 2,678 candidates in Maharashtra 2004 Assembly Elections. This shows a growth of 33% in the number of candidates contesting in 2009.

Out of 3565 candidates in 2009, men and women candidates were 3353 (94%) and 212 (6%) respectively. In 2004, out of 2678 candidates, 2521 were men (94%) and 157 (6%) women. Hence, the percentage of men and women candidates in 2004 and 2009 elections has remained the same.

Executive summary of candidates and MLAs

Summary of candidates

- Maharashtra Election Watch (MEW) analyzed affidavits of 3530 candidates out of 3565 who contested 2009 Assembly elections.
- Out of these 3530 candidates analyzed, 853 candidates or 24% declared pending criminal cases against them. ## Tainted constituency analysis

There are 275 tainted constituencies where in at least one tainted candidate (candidate having pending criminal case) contested. As the following analysis shows, if voters have a choice, they prefer a clean and capable candidate. In the constituencies where there was only one candidate with pending criminal cases, voters choose 80 percent of the clean candidates and rejected most of the candidates with pending criminal cases. In the constituencies where there were two candidates with pending criminal cases, voters choose 64% of the clean candidates. The percentage of clean winners however has gone down to around 8% in constituencies with more than five candidates with pending criminal cases. Given below is the analysis of the tainted constituencies for all candidates and all types of criminal cases.

Table: Tainted constituency analysis for all candidates with all types of criminal cases
